The examples of parental alienation in this brochure are not all inclusive. They are, however, examples of what has been experienced by us and many others.

Our Story

For 10 years, we watched as our alienator rewrote childhood memories; included the kids in rituals; used fear and manipulation to sabotage visitation time; enlisted the help of the police, DFS and other community professionals in order to advance her agenda… and so much more.

In May 2018, my husband lost all 3 children to parental alienation. We share our story and have made this brochure with the hope that by doing so, we can help you understand what may be happening right in front of you.

If this brochure has made its way to you, please let us know!

Parental Alienation Speaks

PARENTAL ALIENATION SPEAKS PRESENTS:

Parental Alienation
What It Is & What It Looks Like

Parental Alienation is the intentional and strategic indoctrination of hate and/or guilt by one parent against the other, with the sole purpose of severing the bond spiritually, mentally, emotionally and physically with the other parent, thus gaining total power over the child, and ultimately the alienated parent.

THE FACTS

- Parental Alienation is now listed under diagnostic code V995.51 “child psychological abuse” in the current Diagnostic and Statistical Manual (DSM-5) of the American Psychiatric Association (APA).
- As of 2018, the World Health Organization’s (WHO) International Classification of Diseases (ICD-11) recognizes Parental Alienation under “Caregiver Child Relation Problem.”
- In 2016, Colorado enacted a law recognizing Parental Alienation as a form of child abuse.
- In July 2010, Brazil passed a law (article 2 law no.12,318) making Parental Alienation a criminal act and defining it as the "interference with the psychological formation of a child or adolescent."
- In 2014, Mexico passed a law against Parental Alienation citing it an "act of family violence anyone that transforms the consciousness of a child in order to prevent, hinder or destroy its links with one of their parents."

Definitions

Alienating Parent (AKA the alienator)- parent who is indoctrinating the child into the hate for the other parent

Targeted Parent- parent who is the target of the indoctrination of hate

Flying Monkeys- a term used to describe other people i.e. family members, friends etc. recruited to help the alienator indoctrinate hate

What It Might Look Like To The Targeted Parent

Child/ren behaviors...

- rejection of the targeted parent
- falsely accusing targeted parent of abuse
- recalling memories that never occurred
- reenactments of strange behaviors/rituals
- showing fear of the targeted parent with no reason why
- refusing to see the targeted parent
- increasingly aggressive, hostile and/or abusive towards targeted parent
- refusing to call targeted parent "mom" or "dad"
- calling targeted parent by new name or first name
- increasingly secretive, deceptive &/or lying behavior
- targeted parent feels like the outsider when children present
- NEVER mentioning the alienating parent
- mentions alienating parent in terms of being a victim or "poor health"
- speaking in a made up or new language with siblings
- overly emotional when targeted parent tries to make contact
- becoming void of all emotion over time
- increasingly acting like targeted parent "owes" child something
- self-esteem drops
- child becomes depressed & withdrawn over time
- phone calls from targeted parent to child are interrupted, cut off or not allowed
- all communication suddenly cut off with targeted parent w little or no warning

What it Might Look Like to Police, Social Workers & Counselors

- child states he/she refuses to see or is afraid of targeted parent with no clear reasons why
- child gives only generalized answers never specifics
- child overly emotional (hysterical or angry) towards the targeted parent
- parent does most if not all of the talking to professionals & guides child during interviews/counseling sessions
- multiple well-child checks by DFS & law enforcement to same home
- all of the children seem to recite the same exact story or script when interviewed
- issues tend to be the same, for instance, revolve around food or money, something the alienating parent is angry about
- child/ren will continue to lie in order to please the alienating parent
- the more intense the alienation occurring, the more intense the allegations
- alienator will not let child be interviewed without him/her present
- routine calls from alienating parent requesting police show up during kids pickup/dropoff
